How to use this plan: No breakfast, your first food is lunch at 11. Pick 1 option per slot, any combination lands on your targets. Monday to Thursday runs five slots, coffee, lunch, the 3pm snack, dinner and dessert. Friday to Sunday runs coffee, lunch and dinner only, the pints take the rest. Everything with a number gets weighed, meat and prawns raw, potatoes and rice as served, the free veg never.

How to weigh: Everything gets weighed raw, before it hits the pan. Meat raw, pasta and oats dry, potatoes straight out of the bag. Anything ready to eat gets weighed as it comes, microwave rice from the pouch and tins drained first. If it comes in its own single serve, a pot, a pouch or a bottle, there is nothing to weigh at all. Fruit, salad and vegetables never see the scales, pieces and handfuls do the job. Spoons are level, not heaped. And when you batch cook, weigh it all raw, cook it, then weigh the finished amount and split it evenly into your portions.

COACH NOTES

- A real day: chicken and rice bowl with an apple, crumpets and honey before training, steak, potatoes and veg, a Paddle Pop. About 1,600 with your coffee.
- Friday to Sunday there is no snack and no dessert, the pints are the treat budget: about 170 a pint, 110 a can, any mid strength on tap, brand makes no difference.
- On drink days dinner goes down before the first pint, never on an empty stomach.
- Monday weigh ins read heavy after a weekend, that is water from the pints, not fat. Your true number each week is Thursday or Friday morning.
- Training days the 3pm snack is carbohydrates for your 4pm session. Rest days it is the yoghurt pouch, same time.
- Monday prep covers both lunch bowls: portion into containers and the week is handled.
- Swap rule: cannot find something? Send me a photo from the aisle and I will give you the swap on the spot.
