How to use this plan: Five slots a day: breakfast, morning snack, lunch, afternoon snack, dinner, with dinner the biggest meal. Pick 1 option per slot, any combination lands on your targets. Every dinner here is a family meal: cook once for the whole house, the weights on the card are your plate and the boys eat the same food.

How to weigh: Weigh everything raw, before it hits the pan. Meat raw, pasta and oats dry, potatoes and vegetables raw, frozen food straight from the bag. Ready-to-eat items get weighed as they come, microwave rice straight from the pouch, tins drained first. Anything in a labelled single serve (pots, pouches, bars) needs no scales at all. Fresh fruit, salad and vegetables never need the scales, pieces and handfuls do the job. Spoon measures are level, not heaped. Batch cooking? Weigh the full amount raw, cook it, then weigh the cooked total and split it evenly into your portions.

COACH NOTES

- One kitchen, one meal: no dinner here needs a separate version for the boys, your plate is just the weighed one.
- Sunday prep, about 90 minutes: the burrito bowls and the tuna pasta salad carry your lunches for the week.
- Bacon sits out of this plan for the preservative sensitivity, and everything stays mild on the chilli front.
- Nothing here touches the 5am rehab: breakfast lands after the stretch or walk, exactly like now.
- These dinners are your own list, rebuilt lean. When one goes stale, say the word and we swap it in a Jamie Oliver direction.
