How to use this plan: Five meals a day: breakfast, morning snack, lunch, afternoon snack, dinner, with dinner the biggest. Pick 1 option per meal, any combination lands on your targets. The dinners are your own rotation, the recipes you already cook.

How to weigh: Weigh everything raw, before it hits the pan. Meat raw, pasta and oats dry, potatoes and vegetables raw, frozen food straight from the bag. Ready-to-eat items get weighed as they come, microwave rice straight from the pouch, tins drained first. Anything in a labelled single serve (pots, pouches, bars) needs no scales at all. Fresh fruit, salad and vegetables never need the scales, pieces and handfuls do the job. Spoon measures are level, not heaped. Batch cooking? Weigh the full amount raw, cook it, then weigh the cooked total and split it evenly into your portions.

COACH NOTES

- The katsu, the baked penne and the fajita fried rice are the Meal Prep Manual dishes you sent me, built to your numbers, so follow the card serves, not the site quantities. One batch of katsu is still 12 pieces.
- Family pots get split by cooked weight: cook the lot, weigh the finished pot, take your share.
- Bacon stays out for the preservative sensitivity, and everything stays mild on the chilli front.
- Nothing here touches the 5am rehab: breakfast lands after the stretch or walk.
- The snack meatballs come from the Sunday cook: roll an extra 500g of Coles 5 star mince into meatballs, plain or taco seasoned, and the week of snacks is done.
- Every meal on this plan is one you named. When one goes stale, tell me and it comes off.
